'Lincoln' Bed Brings $2,500

An antique walnut bed, which the owner said was built by President Abraham Lincoln, sold for $2,500 recently at an auction in Little Rock, Ark.

According to the Arkansas Gazette: "The auctioneers, who had advertised the bed locally and nationally, said they had anticipated lively bidding from a crowd of antique dealers. But the dozen or more persons attending reacted more as though it was a funeral than an auction. The scant crowd was made up mostly of reporters and those connected with the auction."

The newspaper said the auctioneer asked for an opening bid of $100,000. However the first bid of $2,500 was never challenged. The prior owner said he had purchased the bed from an 86-year-old woman in Danville, Ark. The woman had maintained Lincoln built the bed, used it for many years, and before moving to the White House to be sworn in as president, gave it to the woman's grandfather. It had been in her family for 116 years.

The newest owner indicated he would attempt to sell the bed at a New York auction house where he anticipates a possible $25,000 price. The newspaper said if the owner did not get the expected price he would donate it to the Lincoln Museum in Springfield, Ill.
